Oberlin boy attends camp

An Oberlin grade school student attended a national football camp in Commerce, Texas, earlier in the month.

Clay Andersen, 11, will be in sixth-grade at Oberlin Elementary School this fall. He said he likes to play football, and for the third time in three years, he was able to attend the Jay Novacek Football Camp on the campus of Texas A&M University.

About 500 youngsters ages 8 to 18 from across the country gathered to learn the fundamentals of football and meet some professional players, including Jay Novacek of the Dallas Cowboys. Members of the Cowboy squad worked with the youths, teaching them offensive and defensive techniques used by National Football League coaches, Clay said.

During the time Novacek played for the Cowboys, he made five consecutive trips to the pro bowl, four as the National Football League's starting tight end, and was named the 1993 NFL Alumni Tight End of the Year.

Clay's father, Jim Andersen, a coach and teacher at Decatur Community High School, was one of the coaches at the camp, helping teach those ages 8-10.

Clay was named an outstanding cornerback and outstanding quarterback while at camp.

Oberlin drivers do well

Dan Lauer, Norton, and Donald Dodds, Kensington, were first-time winners in their divisions this season at Elmwood Park Speedway on July 13.

Lauer jumped to the lead on the opening lap of the IMCA Stock Car Summer Series feature and never looked back as he powered away for the win in a caution-free race. Track point leader Randy Clydesdale took second over J.R. McCreery and Troy Attwood. Series point leader Mark Zorn rounded out the top five. Heat race winners were Lauer and Attwood.

Jeremy Zorn of Russell took advantage of his outside front row starting spot to take the lead in the 15-lap Bomber feature. But Zorn had problems and stalled, bringing out a caution on lap 7. Dodds took a lead he would not relinquish as he picked up the victory. Jason Rogers finished second, trailed by Jason Davis, heat two winner Josh Hudson, and Michael Zajic. Zorn won the other heat race.

David Murray of Oberlin, driving a borrowed car, took the lead on lap two of the IMCA Modified feature from Steve Reedy and powered away for an easy win, his fourth of the season on track. Doug Holmeister finished in second place, Tim Watts took third, followed by Chad Sterling and Reedy. Reedy, Sterling and Murray won the three heat races.

Barry Schoen of Downs led all eight laps of the IMCA Hobby Stock feature to score his fourth win at Norton. Jamie Reiman finished second and heat race winner Kale Shank was third.

Point leaders Kirk Persinger and Justin Graham of Norton took the lead on lap five and won their third feature this season. There were several cautions during the race as only 11 of the 17 starters saw the checkered flag. Doug and Jason Monty finished second, followed by Jeff Kleen and Mark Goebel.

Racing returns to Norton during the Norton County Fair for a two-day show on Saturday and Sunday. The Bud Shoot-Out will feature the regular five divisions in action with a complete show each night. The green flag will wave at 7 p.m. Saturday and at 6 p.m. Sunday. There will be added purse money for all divisions.
