

Holly and Gregory Horning

Couple married in church in Park

Holly Susanne Campbell and Gregory Duane Horning were married on Saturday, June 14, 2003, at the Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Park.

Father Benjamin Saw officiated at the ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Tom and Deb Campbell, Hoxie; and Duane and Nancy Horning, Manhattan. Grandparents of the bride are Willis and Peggy Carman, Oberlin, and Catherine Campbell, Hoxie. Myrtle Waldo, Oberlin, is her great-grandmother. Grandparents of the bridegroom are Robert and Hilda Horning, Gaylord.

Carrie Meier, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Angie Long and Jamie Alstrom, cousins of the bride, and Valerie Berry, Kelly Meyer and Shawna Drake. Personal attendant was Lindsay Koster, cousin of the bride.

Jeff Noffsinger served as best man. Groomsmen were Trinedy Henry, Josh Schemper, Eric Johnson, and Jeff Schinstock; and Josh Campbell, brother of the bride.

The flower girls were Keeley Cunningham, niece of the bridegroom, and Maggie Koster, cousin of the bride.

Guests were seated by Bryan Cunningham, brother-in-law of the bridegroom; Steve Meier, brother-in-law of the bride, and Zach Stone. Candlelighters were Jill Cunningham, sister of the bridegroom, and Kristen Wade.

Jayne Turner and Suzann Pool, friends of the bride, and Emily Ostmeyer, Ashley Heskett, Andrea Breit, Chelsea Heskett, and Mackenzie Carman, cousins of the bride, were in charge of the guest book and programs.

Musicians were Allie Moore, cousin of the bride; Sally Cameron and Amanda Morales.

A reception, dinner and dance were held at the Hoxie Elks Lodge following the ceremony. Hosts were Larry and Diana Alstrom, uncle and aunt of the bride, and Stan and Nancy Horning, uncle and aunt of the bridegroom.

The bride is a graduate of Hoxie High School and the University of Kansas. She is an occupational therapist at Mercy Hospital in Manhattan.

The bridegroom graduated from Logan High School and Barton County Community College. He is an account manager for Sykes Inc. of Manhattan.

Following a honeymoon trip to Jamaica, they are living in Manhattan.

Club News

Man speaks at meeting

Monday Evening Club members met Nov. 10 at the home of Marcia Lohofener with Diane Frickey as co-hostess. Roll call was answered by members telling of their favorite charity.

Dennis Brown was guest speaker and shared his life experiences which brought him to Oberlin. He told about the Doorway Ministries program, and the Forget-Me-Not organization which he began 11 years ago in Decatur County as his way of brightening the lives of residents of nursing homes and shut-ins. He also shares with students and civic groups about the poor choices he made as a youth, and also presented several musical selections.

The Christmas tree will be put up at the Decatur County Museum this week and it was announced that a pancake and sausage benefit supper for the museum is planned at St. John's Lutheran Church on Friday, prior to the Decatur Community High School musical.

Sandy Fair will host the Dec. 8 meeting, assisted by Carol Morford. Entertainment will be the DCHS Singers. Each member is to bring an unwrapped gift for a child.

ZetaNu Club donates book

Fourteen members of Zeta Nu Club met at Prairie Petals on Thursday evening, Nov. 13, and enjoyed a program presented by Laurie Wasson on flowers and arrangements. Each member arranged flowers in a bud vase.

Janice Winters collected for the Veterans fund and Angel Tree. President Mary Waldo appointed Marian Fraker, Lois Fredrickson and Marie

Zimmerman on the Angel Tree project.

Charlotte Meints reported that a book was donated to Oberlin Elementary School in memory of Martha Euhus. Norine Schweitzerberger won the hostess gift.

The December meeting will be a dinner at the LandMark Inn for members and guests.

Widows and Friends meet

Twenty Widows and Friends enjoyed a Thanksgiving lunch at the Frontier Restaurant on Nov. 12.

Present were: Mildred Holmdahl, Evelyn Olson, Eileene Grose, Betty Jenik, Alice Shirley, Martha Nemeth, Nadean Stony, Millie Lippelmann, Dorothy

Jackson, Doris Fringer, Bernie Fred, Martha Fringer, Alice Bobbitt, Eula Juememann, Esther Carlson, Cecil Hess, Veanna Orr, Ruby Wennihan, Norma Richards and Mae Guy.

The Christmas meeting will be an 8:30 a.m. breakfast on Dec. 10 at the Frontier.

Auxiliary gets yearbooks

Twelve American Legion Auxiliary members met at the Legion Club on Nov. 12. Hostesses were Lois Lamb and Dolores Koerperich.

President Phyllis Metcalf opened the meeting with the Pledge of Allegiance and the reading of the Preamble.

Membership Chairman Carol Allen distributed new yearbooks. Thank you notes were read from the Glendis (Mott) Sayer and Delores Bunstock families. The group voted to send $50 to Operation Crayon, and to send $50 for snacks to the Veterans Poppy Room in Kansas City instead of sending cookies, due to the high cost of postage. The Sons of Legionnaires hog roast which took place Nov. 8 at the Legion was discussed.

The next meeting will be on Dec. 10, and will be a soup supper. In lieu of gifts, money will be donated to the Angel Tree. The program will include Christmas specials. Laurene Dempewolf closed the meeting with prayer.

Club donates to groups

Pi Alpha Club met Nov. 10 at the home of Eris Young with Fern Wenger assisting.

For devotions, Mrs. Young read, "God Speaks" and her program presentation theme was "Laughter and Humor," with members participating by sharing stories and jokes.

President Marty Olson told about the reading program for Oberlin Elementary School students during National Book Week and the club voted to furnish juice for all as one of the rewards upon completion. They also voted a $20 donation to Teens for Christ for use in a Christmas light parade float. Thirteen members were present and Rosella Meitl received the hostess gift.

Hostesses for the Nov. 24 meeting will be Kristy and Joan Evans. A basket will be passed for donations to the Christmas Angel Tree.

4-H club hangs greenery

It was an action-packed day Sunday for the Maverick 4-H club. We hung greenery downtown, decorated a tree for the museum, and volunteered for the theater. And that was all before the meeting. At the meeting we answered roll call with our favorite Thanksgiving food. The induction of the officers, initiation of new members, and club committee sign-up followed. We also decided to donate money for the Angel Tree and finalized our Christmas party plans. As we were leaving, we were given a Thanksgiving craft to do and give to someone we are thankful for. The next meeting will be our Christmas party.

Father time will pay a call with cards and letter from you all, Extending wishes of birthday cheer on the arrival of her 60th year.

Jaycees plan Angel Tree

The Oberlin Jaycees will be sponsoring their Angel Tree, which made the holidays brighter for over 50 children last year, again this season.

The project is designed to help families in need of a few "extras," such as shirts, jeans, shoes, gloves, coats, and boots, along with a few toys to make their child's Christmas a little brighter.

Sign-up forms may be picked up at Fredrickson Insurance Agency or Oberlin banks, the grocery store, or from bulletin boards. They may be returned to the drop box in Fredrickson Insurance or to the Oberlin Jaycees, in care of Abby Hissong, 202 S. Elk, Oberlin, Kan., 67749.

The Angel Tree with the children's information (all names are kept confidential) will be located at Fredrickson Insurance Agency at 183 S. Penn. Sign-up forms should be returned by Monday, Dec. 1, with the final deadline on Friday, Dec. 5.

"This will enable those wonderful individuals or groups that have chosen an Angel Tree child the time to shop," the Jaycees said.

Parents of Angel Tree recipients are to pick up their children's gifts beginning Wednesday, Dec. 17, to keep the "mystery" alive. The Jaycees will deliver to those unable to pick up the gifts on Saturday, Dec. 20.

Those unable to pick up the gifts are asked to make arrangements to be home on that day for the delivery. For details, contact Mrs. Hissong at 475-2696 or 475-3883.

'Day Out for Ladies' planned

A "Day Out for Ladies" will be presented by the women of the Washboard in downtown Oberlin from 1-6 p.m. Saturday at The Gateway.

The staff includes owner Jane Carlisle, Leta Meitl, Shelby Brown and Glenda Gould. They say the main objective of the program is to help promote the Oberlin business community and women in home-based businesses.

Some 30 booths are planned which will include health topics, beauty choices, and motivational tools. Together, these business women have over 45 years of experience in the beauty, fashion and business field. Shelby Brown will be welcomed as a new employee at the shop.

For details, call (785) 475-3148.

Early-age screening set

An Early Age Screening will be offered Friday by the Oberlin Elementary School and the Northwest Kansas Educational Service Center staff.

All pre-schoolers up to age 5 who will not take part in the kindergarten screening are invited. Parents need to accompany their children through the process. Allow an hour to an hour and a half for each child. Tests will cover vision, hearing, motor skills, speech and language, and reasoning ability.

Call the school office at (785) 475-2122 to set up an appointment. For details, contact Diana Steinmetz or Principal Duane Dorshorst at the school.

Happy 95th Birthday

Alvina M. Unger

will be celebrating her 95th Birthday on Wednesday, November 19.

Cards may reach her at: 1715 W. Ash, Apt. 109 Oberlin KS 67749.

Her family will be hosting an Open House on Saturday, November 29 at Wheat Ridge Terrace from 2 to 4 p.m.
