Normal High 83

Triple digit heat across the area yesterday broke records set in June of 2000. Let's hope this is not an indication on how the rest of the summer will turn out! The rest of this week above normal temperatures an outside chances for thunderstorms during the evenings and nights will rule. Cool fronts Friday and Sunday will increase storm chances some and bring temperatures closer to normal over the weekend. We should be able to dodge storms and have nice weather for the Herndon Ox Roast on Saturday!
