license in possession (dismissed), court costs $35; Donald Morris, Hill City, illegal tags, $135, reinstatement fee, $50; Eula Juenemann, Oberlin, improper backing, $95.

POLICE BLOTTER

The Oberlin Police Department worked these calls last week:

•Received a criminal damage report to a 1996 Chrysler belonging to Jamie Marshall. The car was parked at Reliance Auto Body between Saturday, Nov. 13, and last Tuesday when someone broke the windshield. Police Chief Wade Lockhart said the damage was reported around 4 p.m. on Tuesday. The car had a fairly new windshield, he said.

•Worked a criminal damage report on a second windshield being broken on a 1981 Buick belonging to Thomas Weishapl sometime between 4:30 and 7:30 p.m. last Wednesday at 108 E. Ash.

•Worked an accident on Wednesday, Nov. 10, when Eula Juenemann, 77, driving a 2004 Taurus, backed out of a stall on Penn Avenue and hit a 1984 Mercury driven by Faye Meitl, 75. Mrs. Juenemann received a ticket for improper backing.

•Received a call on Thursday that someone had responded to a Nigerian letter on the Internet and had received a check which someone was trying to cash at First National Bank. The check was a fraud. Chief Lockhart said in a typical Internet fraud, letters are sent out from Nigeria or some other country claiming that the sender needs someone to hold onto some money for them and they will get to keep a portion.

To do it, the recipient is asked to send money to the writer, in this case $200. Then a check is sent back for a lot more. Often the writer requests that a large sum of it is sent right back in a check. The check is no good and the person who cashes it can be held liable.

Chief Lockhart said people need to be very careful with such offers, because if it sounds too good to be true, it probably is.

In Memory of
Helen D. (Chambers) Stanley

Do you need Me? I am there.
You cannot see Me,
yet I am the light you see by.
You cannot hear Me,
yet I speak through your voice.
You cannot feel Me, yet I am the power at work in your hands.
I am at work, though you do not understand my ways.
I am at work, though you do not recognize My works.
I am not strange visions.
I am not mysteries.
Only an absolute stillness, beyond self, can you know Me as I am, and then but as feeling and faith. Yet I am there.
Yet I hear. Yet I answer.
When you need Me, I am there.
Even if you deny Me,
I am there.
Even when you feel most alone,
I am there.
Even in your pain, I am there.
I am there when you pray and when you do not pray.
I am in you, and you are in Me.

WEATHER

Decatur County Weather November 23rd - 29th

Tue	Wed	Thu	Fri	Sat	Sun	Mon
32/21	38/20	45/25	43/25	35/23	30/18	28/21
Normal High 47				Sunrise 7:36 to 7:42am
Normal Low 23				Sunset 5:19 to 5:21pm

Rain, freezing rain and snow will fall today and tonight, from Oklahoma City to Kansas City. For us skies will be cloudier with colder temperatures through Wednesday. Thanksgiving Day sunshine pushes highs back into the 40's. Friday clouds increase and chances for snow pick up overnight through the day Saturday. Sunday and Monday remain cold with some flurries. The extended forecast into December has storms coming every two to three days. Happy Thanksgiving!
