

Juniors Jonathon Richards and Drew Martin had a good time raking leaves during Halloween Clean-up.

Dictator staff says Merry Christmas

The journalism department would like to wish all of our readers a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. We close the 2004 year with a photo album of the first semester.

DCHS SINGERS Anne Wasson and Jeremy Tally, juniors, entertained at the Homecoming assembly held earlier this year.

WARMING UP before a performance, the Decatur Community High School marching band performed at every home football game this year.

WITH THE HELP of senior Ashley Stragey's face, yearbook representative Derius Mammen showed the staff what our endsheets will look like in the 2005 book. They change colors when touched.

JUNIORS LORA MARIETTA AND WHITNEY BEINKE ran at the annual Oberlin Invitational Cross Country meet.

NOLAN MAY gave his oral book report for English with the help of his dog.

HOMECOMING CANDIDATE Trina Shields and escort Lance Fortin made their way to the stage for the Homecoming Assembly.

'Pay' toilet will help pay yearbook expenses

By JUSTINE MILLER, Yearbook editor

You may be next! Beware of the dreaded, ugly toilet named "Big John."

Once the new year rolls around, the journalism class will be doing a fund raiser with a toilet.

The yearbook staff got the idea from the Support our Students group. It sounds crazy, but it's going to be fun.

If you are chosen, we will place a note on your door with detailed instructions.

This brightly painted toilet may end up in your yard, and stay for at least 2-4 days. The only way to "flush it" out is to pay the journalism staff $10. Then we will remove it and put it in someone else's yard. The person who has Big John gets to pick the next "lucky" yard.
