

IN THE JUNIOR HIGH GYM, Rielley Rittmann (above) reached out to a small hamster in a plastic cage. Leta Meitl (below) checked out one of the projects in the senior high gym before the DCHS Singers performed.

Students show off their many talents

Students at Decatur Community High showed off their science projects, written work, art pieces and musical talents to a packed house last Monday night.

With only a couple of weeks left of school, it was one of the last chances for students to show what they had learned this year.

In the junior high gym, science projects were set up on tables for parents and others to view. Many of the projects used mice or small hamsters, while one tested the weight of water using a fish in a small glass bowl.

The creativity of the students was shown by their colorful posters and projects.

Down the hall in the senior high gym, it was a little more of the same. Projects were strewn across tables. There were folders of items the students had written and poster boards covered in pictures.

As onlookers milled around the gym, the Chanté girls got ready to perform. The all-girl group did several songs.

Following their performance, the DCHS singers sang and danced to music from the popular Disney movie "Beauty and the Beast."

With many packed nights of concerts, sporting events and others at the end of school, the show-and-tell evening allowed parents to see a sampling of all of their kids' work in one night.

DCHS SINGERS Jeremy Tally, Bronson Scott and Riley Cochran (above) sang songs from "Beauty and the Beast" while Anne Wasson read the children's book. Hunter Nedland (right) sat at a computer while Daniel Jordan and Nolan Wasson looked over his shoulder.

Photos by Judy Jordan