Jennifer Scott and Paula McDaniel attended the graduations of Jennifer's twin nephews last weekend, joining the boys' parents, Jannell and Mike Garten, and paternal grandmother, Doris Garten. Cody and his fiancée both graduated from K-State with the degree in veterinary medicine. They will be moving to Muleshoe, Texas.

Jennifer, Paula, Jannell, Mike and Doris traveled to Kansas City where Cory Garten received his Doctorate of Osteopathy degree from the Kansas City School of Medicine and Bio-sciences. They attended the baccalaureate at Independence Christian Church on May 14 and then went to the graduation at the Kansas City Music Hall on Sunday. Cory will return to Pontiac, Mich., where he did his internship, to begin a three-year residency in internal medicine in June.

Landen Matthew Vogler was born on May 17 to Penny and Matt Vogler. Landen weighed 7 pounds and 1 ounce. The older siblings are Jordan and Cole Christensen.

Berneda Zoberst and Betty and Rex Castle have worked in the museum and plan to have it open from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Memorial Day. The Barnett family is hosting a covered-dish dinner at noon on Memorial Day at the Community Building. Everyone is welcome. Bring table service; drinks will be provided.

Hulda Wark and Sondra Barnett went to Topeka last weekend to visit Hulda's son, Roger Wark, then all went to Lawrence for the high school graduation of Roger's daughter, Kelly.

On May 14, Edna Colson attended the high school graduation and reception for her granddaughter, Jessica Colson, daughter of Arthur (Buck) and Nancy Colson. Edna spent the night in Colby with Grace and Stan Kauk.

On May 15, Edna Colson and Grace and Stan Kauk all attended the morning worship service at St. John's Country Church. A reception was held to honor Edna's great-granddaughter, Savanna Berens, before her high school graduation. Savanna is the daughter of Nancy and David Berens, and Henry Elling. They attended the graduation ceremony and then became acquainted with Conner James, 4-month-old son of Savanna, and took five-generation pictures.

Edna Colson spent several days with her grandchildren in Hoxie while their father, Buck Colson, was in Hays for surgery. His wife, Nancy, was with him.

Barnswallows last week were Deb Stepper, Darlene Robben, Dick Sanford, Grace Cheney, Betty and Rex Carswell, and Jean Hawkins.

Last weekend guests of Ray and Berneda Zoberst were her daughter, Barbara and Ray Farmer, of Salina. Ray had a niece graduating in Colby.

The Pride Committee is planning a Fourth of July celebration with barbecue and fireworks.

Several seniors joined in the final "fruit and candy Bingo" until fall last Saturday evening.

Former resident Corkey Delzeit died recently. We extend our sincere sympathy to his family and friends.

Since last fall, I have been looking forward to visiting with former Rexford residents who were in the grade school here in 1951. The Peterson-Jackson family lived here only one year, during which time their father died in a fire. After their loss, the family moved to Oberlin. The three oldest and their younger sister were planning to visit Rexford last week and have lunch.

However, the day before the luncheon, plans had changed. Lennie Peterson-Hatch, of Denver, the oldest, was killed in a car accident near St. Francis Tuesday on his way to Oberlin for the reunion.

The group stopped for a short visit with me and my mother, Hulda Wark. The visitors were Barbara Ann Boxberger, Jefferson City, Mo.; Patty Yost, Wilsonville, Neb.; and Jeannie and Ken Miller, Longmont, Colo. Lennie had three children, Rhonda Cook and Renee Ohde of Highlands Ranch, Colo., and Ronnie Hatch of Falls Church, Virginia.

The Rexford Community Church hosted an open house for the family of former pastor, Jim Maxson. He and his daughter, Rachel and Jim Wisheart and Allison, live in Dallas, and his son, Robin Maxson, is a pastor in Klamath Falls, Ore.

Visitors at the open house were Betty Nickols, Doris Jean Oliver, Deb Stepper, Ron and Janette Dible, Margaret and Bill AraSmith, Delores Dible, Aubray Nichols, Darrel Dible, Gary and Karen Hibbs, Darla Dible, Hulda Wark, Sondra Barnett, Doug and Joan Todd, Rex and Betty Carswell and De Ann Dible, all of Rexford; Betty and Dick Pauls, Selden; Elaine Preston, Eileen Dible, Bert Dible, Florence Gilchrist, Madelin Kirken-dall, and Marlene Friesen, Colby; Dennis Preston, Oakley; and Shawn Spresser, Dresden. In the afternoon, the Maxsons enjoyed a visit by phone from Dale and Virginia Mustoe in Topeka.

On Tuesday, Jerry and Louise Latimer, Wichita; Jim and Robin Maxson, and Rachel and Jim Wisheart and Allison, took a tour of the Rexford and Hawkeye cemeteries. They and the Wishearts, Steve and Terri Allen, and Jerry and Louise Latimer were supper guests of Betty Nickols. Jim and Robin Maxson visited Frankie McIntyre at the Prairie Senior Living Center on Wednesday.

Social Hour Club members present on Wednesday were Deb Stepper, Grace Cheney, Clea Moeder, Jean Hawkins, Marjorie Leh, Ruth Luna and Sondra Barnett and guest Deborah Gamboa. Bingo prize winners were Ruth, Deborah, Grace and Marjorie. Hostess winner was Clea. The next meeting will be on June 1 with Jean Hawkins as hostess.

Vesta Roth is feeling better after suffering nearly two weeks with pneumonia.

Charis Flores is improved after surgery.

Come On Down had two tables last week: Betty and Rex Carswell, Dick Sanford, Deb Stepper, Grace Cheney, Darlene Robben, Lawrence Horinek and Jean Hawkins.

The Rexford and Gem Lions clubs planted two trees at the Golden Plains Grade School in Selden as their conservation project. They were thankful for the assistance of LeRoy Spresser and the back hoe.

Makin' It Happen: Hats off to all the wonderful people in Rexford. My little dog, Gismo, escaped one evening and nearly half the town got out to help me look for him. That wouldn't happen in many places! What a wonderful place to live.
