By Louise Cressler

The community extends sympathy to Ramona and Stan Shaw on the death of Ramona's brother, Doc Porsch of Selden.

Sympathy is also extended to Frances Davitt's family. Graveside services were held Tuesday, Nov. 1, at the Jennings Cemetery. Relatives attending the service were her sister, Ardith and Dale Gross, Baton Rouge, La.; nephews Greg Gross, Baton Rouge, and Michael Carper, San Angelo, Texas; and niece, Amy Gross, Baton Rouge.

Congratulations to Kristy Gawith who won the computer in the drawing held during Customer Appreciation Day at the Community Hall by Nex-Tech on Oct. 13.

Louise Cressler attended a luncheon on Friday at the LandMark Inn in Oberlin for the correspondents of The Oberlin Herald. It was nice to meet the other correspondents and enjoy the lovely luncheon.

Mary Votapka went to Hays on Oct. 29 to visit her sister, Ethel Taylor. On Sunday they went to visit another sister, Elaine and Myron McKinley, in Tulsa, Okla. On Monday they all traveled to Branson, Mo., to see fall trees and attend some shows. Linda DeMichel, Farmington, Mich., joined them. Mary returned home Friday in time to attend the funeral of Chuck Votapka in Oberlin.

Donna Hampton and Marilyn Linn, Wichita, were guests of Vendla Tacha last week. On Wednesday, they went to Oberlin and enjoyed lunch at the Frontier Restaurant with their cousins, Cecil Hess, Mary Lou Olson, Marianna Bendon, Karla Jones and Ivis Hanson. On Friday evening, Donna Hampton, Marilyn Linn, Warren and Lynn Tacha, Arch Harman and Vendla Tacha enjoyed Mexican food at the Town and Country in Norton. Marilyn and Donna stopped in Salina on their way home Saturday to visit another cousin, Bill and Ethlyn Tacha.

United Methodist Women met Wednesday with nine members present: Rachel Carter, Naomi Carter, Kathy Nauer, Kay Brown, Mildred Tacha, Helen Rhodes, Claudine Bennett, Glenda Johnson and Louise Cressler. Helen gave the lesson "The Prayer Jesus Taught Us" in the absence of Lila Jennings. Glenda gave Quiet Moments. Claudine and Louise were hostesses.

Jennings City Council met Thursday with all members present. Karen Griffith, attorney, of Norton explained to the council areas under consideration for annexation to the city. Paper work will need to be done by the council. Work is being done on the sewer to pass inspection in January.

Plans are being made to move the information board from the Highway Park to the Community Hall. Some late utility bills were discussed. Mayor Bob Jones spoke on the meeting which he and Louise attended at The Gateway in Oberlin Monday evening. Speaker was Toby Prine, Northwest Kansas Regional coordinator, Kansas Homeland Security.

Reminder: Hunter's breakfast will be served at Mom's Lil Market at 5:30 a.m. on Saturday morning. Soup and sandwiches will be served from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. and the store will be open all day Saturday.

The Jennings United Methodist Church will serve a Hunter's Supper at the church starting at 5:30 p.m. Turkey, ham, mashed potatoes, veggies, salad bar and dessert bar are on the menu.

Sympathy is extended to the family of Ernest L. Solko, 86, who died Oct. 30, 2005, at Christian Care Center of Cheatham County in Ashland City, Tenn. Mass of Christian Burial was held Friday morning at St. Mary's Assumption Catholic Church in Herndon. The Rev. Damian Richards officiated and burial was at Mount Calvary Cemetery in Atwood.

Senior Citizens held a business meeting at the Senior Center on Wednesday. Beth Chartier read the poem, "Thankful." Myrna Pettera, Loveland, Colo., was a guest after the meeting. Bingo was played. Myrna Pettera won blackout and Kay Satter, the door prize.

The next potluck will be Nov. 16. Doris and Helen Marintzer will have kitchen duty. There will be a business meeting on Dec. 7.

Judy Solko, Larned, and Pat Marrs, Hays, were Thursday overnight guests of their mother, Monica Solko. Carol Solko of Hays came Friday. They all came to attend funeral services for their uncle, Ernest Solko, on Friday at Herndon. Ron and Rodney Solko were Saturday visitors of Monica.

Ann Martin was a Tuesday supper guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jason Geisinger of Selden. On Saturday, Julie Geisinger and Lucy Evans of McCook were visitors of Mrs. Martin.

Jamie and Lisa Kogl and daughters, Kayla and Rachel, of Lake-wood, Colo., spent the weekend with Helen Marintzer. Myrna Pettera, Loveland, Colo., was a visitor during the week.

Enjoying coffee last Wednesday at the home of Chris Wood were Edie Pettera, Esther Pennington, Helen Marintzer, Ann Martin and Beth Hraha. Ray and Ruth Corsey of Centennial, Colo., were afternoon visitors.

Ann Martin and Hank Martin attended the 70th birthday party honoring Pat Glebe at McCook last Saturday evening. It was hosted by her children, Patrick and Debra Huss of Osawatomie, and Rod and Paula (Huss) Sramek of LaCrosse.

Les and Keith Pettera came last Thursday and Edie Pettera accompanied them back to Denver, where they celebrated the birthdays of Edie, Keith and Don Pettera, who share the same birthday. Don was unable to attend due to illness. They celebrated with dinner at the home of Les and Myrna Pettera in Loveland, Colo. Other guests were Pat and Bud Bosler, Pine, Colo.; Keith, Tress, Alyssa and Matthew Pettera, Denver; Mike and Connie James, and Gabbie and Michelle, Thornton, Colo.

Wednesday visitors of Helen Marintzer were Ray and Ruth Corsey, Chris Wood and Sharon Ecker.

Dinner guests last Sunday of Monica Solko were Ron and Rodney Solko of Oberlin. Tom Solko was a Sunday visitor.
