

Telethon set at Gateway Saturday

The 13th annual Seeds of Hope Telethon kicks off at 1 p.m. Saturday at The Gateway with talent, food and auction items all day.

For the last 12 years a committee has organized the telethon in February each year to raise money for non-profit organizations in Decatur County. In the fall, committee members start sending out letters to groups interested in receiving money, people who might want to donate an item for the auction and those who have a talent they want to perform.

This year's committee includes Jack

Benton, Bill Duncan, Regina Stanley, Brenda Ulery, Peg Smith, Kristi Smith and Timothy and Kimberly Davis. In November the committee members read letters from organizations asking for help this year and picked 19 groups to receive money. Those groups include Teens for Christ, the Decatur County Museum, the City of Jennings, the City of Norcat, Kansans for Life, Oberlin Area Concert Band, Oberlin Lions Club, the Salvation Army, Relay for Life, Decatur County Ministerial Association, Tripple Creek Riders, Decatur Professional Women, Oberlin Girl Scouts, Creative Movements, Awana Club, the Golden Age Center, Decatur County Fair Board and half an amount to both the Decatur County Summer Recreation Program and Frogs Camp.

Each of the groups are required to provide someone to answer the phone for an hour the day of the telethon, do an interview and provide goodies for the concession stand. Once the final donation comes into the telethon, the money is divided up and each group will receive a check.

Money raised during the event comes in through the concession stand, people making monetary donations or pledges and making purchases at the auction. The auction lasts all day including both items that people can bid on an hourly basis and those that will be up for bid from 1 to 9 p.m.

During the first hour of the telethon, from 1 to 2 p.m. no auction items will be sold off. At the end of each hour after that up to 8 p.m. auction items featured each hour will be sold. At 9 p.m. the items featured on the all-day auction will be sold.

Anyone can either call in to 475-3753 or 475-2639 to make a bid on the auction items or come to The Gateway to do it.

Anyone still wanting to make a donation for the auction can do so by calling Kimberly Davis or Kristi Smith at 475-3510.

The committee asks anyone buying auction items to please pick them up at The Gateway by 10 p.m. the day of the telethon.

Some of the auction items include a purse, hair products, porcelain dolls, seasoning, a (See TELETHON on Page 10A)

AT THE ANNUAL Oberlin-Decatur County Chamber of Commerce banquet Thursday, Paul Siebert (above) performed on his hammer dulcimer before he switched to the guitar and banjo. Kurt Vollertsen (below) served himself dinner before the entertainment started.

— Herald staff photos by Kimberly Davis

Music fills arena at annual banquet

Members of the Oberlin-Decatur County Chamber of Commerce elected 10 new members to the Amusement Authority and three to the chamber board of directors at the annual banquet Thursday night at The Gateway.

Those elected to the Amusement Authority included Tim Thornton, Candy Ketterl, Stephanie Blau, Jim Wesch, Elden Huff, Kevin Ketterl, Dana Koerperich, Jennifer Schissler, Melinda Grafel and Judy Scott. They will join Vicky Ray and Dana Marintzer who are already members to make up the 12 member group.

The new chamber board members include Amanda Grafel, Dr. Shannon Addleman and Dave Olson. They will join Kari Ketterl, Kem Bryan, Tami Shaw, Kelly Wasson, Beth Harmon and Sid Metcalf on the board.

Before starting the meal Jay Anderson, with the Oberlin City Council and a member of the airport committee, asked the people at the banquet to please write to their state and national legislators asking for support of the airport expansion project.

"We need every letter we can get out," said Dr. Anderson. "Community participation counts."

The chamber board honored two people for their volunteer work in the county. Abby Hissong, said Brian Loker, has organized the angel tree for years and the fair at the grade school to name a few. Joyce Hartzog, he said, volunteers at the chamber, at her church and is just very giving.

A big thanks to both of them, he said, and to everyone who helped out this year including the Maverick 4-H club for helping decorate downtown, LaMoine Wolfram for helping replace lights, Rusty Addleman for the fireworks show and Gary Walter for organizing the light parade.

Before the evening was over, Paul Siebert entertained the group on his hammer dulcimer, banjo and guitar. Mr. Siebert, who is originally from Aurora, Neb., said he played at the Good Samaritan Center that afternoon and explored Oberlin too. (See CHAMBER on Page 10A)

Moisture totals in 2007 drop below average

By KIMBERLY DAVIS
kldavis@nwkans.com

Even with all of the snow storms last year, Decatur County actually had almost two inches less in moisture in 2007 than in 2006.

Jerry Killingsworth, meteorologist with the National Weather Service in Goodland, said in 2007 Decatur County received 19.88 inches of moisture while the county received 21.85 inches in 2006.

Since 1893 Decatur County has had a weather station with an observer which sends regular reports to the National Weather Service, he said. Looking back at the moisture totals for over 100 years the average for a year is 20.79 inches.

In both 2006 and 2007 the county was within an inch to the average, said Mr. Killingsworth.

Just a few years ago the area was in a drought, he said, but now nowhere across northwest Kansas is in a drought. In order to determine that, he said, they have to put together a string of totals for several years. It took about five years or so for the area to get into a drought and it takes about the same amount of time to get out of one.

In 2002, said Mr. Killingsworth, when Decatur County and northwest Kansas were in a drought there was 12.25 inches of moisture recorded, the following year there was 16 inches. The drought started to show up back in 1995 when the county only received 17 inches of moisture, which is over three less than average.

In 2004 and 2005 the county was about normal getting 25 inches, he said. Anytime a county or area can get an average year, they are doing a lot better than some of the other areas in northwest Kansas.

Using U.S. 36 as a line, said Mr. Killingsworth, anything to the north of that highway seemed to get average to above moisture in 2007. Anything to the south was below normal to varying degrees. Some places were well below normal, he said. For example, Goodland to Burlington down to Sharon Springs (See NUMBERS on Page 10A)

Meeting planned to discuss disease found in deer

By KIMBERLY DAVIS
kldavis@nwkans.com

The Kansas Department of Wildlife and Parks plans to hold an informational meeting on chronic wasting disease at The Gateway next Wednesday, after confirmed reports of the disease in three white-tailed deer harvested this past hunting season.

Bob Mathews, with the department, said Lloyd Fox, big game project leader and Ruby Mosher, wildlife disease coordinator will both talk at the public meeting at 7 p.m., Wednesday, Feb. 6 at The Gateway.

The meeting was scheduled after three confirmed cases in white-tailed deer harvested here were released at the beginning of the month. All three deer were killed along the Sappa Creek, north of Oberlin.

There are about 600 more samples from northwest Kansas left to be tested. Last month a confirmed case of chronic wasting disease was reported by the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission in Red Willow County.

According to information from the department, chronic wasting disease is fatal to infected deer and elk. The progressive disease causes small holes to develop in the brain. That results in decreased brain function, which means the deer or elk can show signs of depression, a droopy head, staggering, loss of appetite and even a lack of response to humans. That continues into weight loss, drooling and excessive thirst.

The department asks hunters to continue getting deer tested for the disease and asks them not to take deer carcasses away from the area where they lived, especially ones taken in areas where chronic wasting disease has been confirmed. It also suggests not dumping the carcasses where deer or elk can come into contact with the remains, but instead having them double-bagged and taken to a landfill, since the disease can be transmitted by

(See MEETING on Page 10A)

Little Miss wins gift certificates and prizes as the first baby born in 2008

At 7 pounds 14.4 ounces, 20 inches Brylee Annette Minnick is Decatur County's New Year's baby for 2008.

Born at 4:23 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 22, at Decatur County Hospital to parents Karlie Black and Nathan Minnick, Brylee is the first baby of 2008 delivered in the county.

Dressed in pink fleece type pants, a white long sleeved shirt with tiny flowers and a bow in her full head of dark hair, Brylee and her mom were ready to go home Thursday.

Miss Black said they knew they were having a little girl and decided to name her after Mr. Minnick's brother Bryan. Annette is Brylee's grandmother's middle name on Mr. Minnick's side.

Miss Black said she had read in The Oberlin Herald that the New Year's baby hadn't been born yet. She said her due date was Jan. 17, although it was changed several times, but she didn't really think about having the New Year's baby.

Miss Black has a son, Gage VanMeter, and Mr. Minnick a daughter Kariah Castle.

Miss Black is a nurse aide at the Decatur County Good Samaritan Center and Mr. Minnick works with Union Pacific out of North Platte.

On Brylee's mother's side, her family includes Penny Smith, maternal grandma, Kelley Black, aunt, Chris and Kasey May, aunt and uncle, all of Oberlin and Daniel and Shannon Black, aunt and uncle, St. Joseph, Mo.

On Brylee's father's side her family includes Cyndy and Scott Dolan, grandparents, of Oberlin, Virginia Baker, great-grandma, Jean Minnick, great-grandma, both of Cambridge, Neb.; Bonnie Dolan, great-grandma, Justin and Nikki Sauvage, aunt and uncle, of Oberlin and Jeff Minnick, uncle, of McPherson.

Prizes for being the first baby of the new year include a $10 gift certificate from the Dresser, a case of baby food from Raye's Grocery, a $10 gift card from Stanley Hardware, a $20 gift certificate from Carol Morford with Mary Kay, a $25 gift certificate at Addleman Drug Store, a $10 gift certificate at Ward Drug Store, a pizza for two from Pizza Hut, a $25 gift certificate from Rocking R, a gift from Fredrickson Insurance Agency and a year subscription to The Oberlin Herald.

AT THE HOSPITAL last week, Karlie Black, Gage VanMeter, Kariah Castle, holding her new sister, Brylee Annette and Nathan Minnick sat on the couch before being released.

*Telethon will raise money

(Continued from Page 1A) western statue and gift certificates for services around town, to name a few things.

Besides the auction, throughout the day different people will be showcased doing various talents. There will be kids dancing and doing gymnastic moves, people and groups playing instruments and others who will sing.

Lunch and supper will be sold at the concession stand with barbecue beef sandwiches, chili, vegetable beef soup and ham and cheese sandwiches. There will also be chips, pies, brownies, cookies and drinks. The concession stand will be open all day.

Everyone is welcome to come to The Gateway the day of the telethon, said Mrs. Davis, to grab something to eat, watch the talent and buy some great items off the auction. People who can't make it to The Gateway, don't forget, she said, that the telethon is aired on the local access cable channel 7.

"The Seeds of Hope Telethon is an awesome event," said Mrs. Davis. "It takes a lot of hours and volunteers to make it happen, but at the end of the day the entire community has pulled together to raise $11,000 to $13,000 with that money going back into organizations here. It's amazing what can happen when a county pulls together."

*Numbers show below average moisture in 2007

(Continued from Page 1A) actually got from 11 to 15 inches in 2007, when the normal is around 19.76 inches.

It is too early to tell what will happen in 2008, said Mr. Killingsworth, although the forecast for three months out shows the area coming out of La Nina, which generally means things are dryer in this part of the country. That forecast means moisture could be below normal for February, March and April.

Forecasts for more than a week out, he said, are normally done in generic terms with above normal, normal and below normal. The forecast for this area is below normal.

This area has been feeling the effects of La Nina since last year, he said.

December was actually quite wet, said Mr. Killingsworth, but January has been below normal.

January on average is normally a dry month, he said, although this year it might end up a little dryer than normal. In fact it is normally the same thing for February. Not until March, April and May does the county generally start to see moisture, he said.

Mr. Killingsworth said he is encouraged by the moisture in December because it can really help. There is still a chance for a drought, he said. It boils down to keeping an eye on the weather for the next few months and hoping that there aren't a lot of dry months together, which could slip the area into a drought.

"I don't think we are totally out of the woods for this year," he said.

*Chamber dinner features music

(Continued from Page 1A) The hammer dulcimer, he said, is played with mallets. This instrument came along before the piano, he said.

Mr. Siebert said he performs classic tunes on the instrument as well as writing his own music. After a couple songs on the hammer dulcimer which he said did make its way across this area by wagon train, he performed several songs on the guitar and one on his banjo.

Outgoing President Marilyn Horn thanked all of the board members for their hard work over the year and to all for attending the chamber banquet.

Before leaving, she asked everyone to reach under their chairs. Adam Kadavy found an envelope with two gift cards to Raye's Grocery inside.

Alliance holds giveaway

Ever try your hand at guessing which sports team is going to win a big game?

The Oberlin Business Alliance is giving people the chance to guess the winner of the national football championship game on Sunday between the New York Giants and the New England Patriots.

Anyone 12 years and older can enter by filling out an entry form in any alliance member's business or at the Oberlin-Decatur County Area Chamber of Commerce office.

The form must include who will win and the points each team will score. The person who guesses the winner and the closest to the points will win a basket full of goodies

Sweetheart banquet set

Lund Covenant Church plans to hold its yearly Sweetheart Banquet on Sunday, Feb. 10, at The Gateway.

Anyone who is interested can attend at a cost of $12 per plate. Reservations can be made by calling Dana Koerperich at 475-2545 by Friday. The entertainment for the evening will be the DCHS Singers.

Crowd packs arena

AT THE GATEWAY last Wednesday, Chuck Tines (above left) and Eugene Ziegler looked at a seed digging tool during the Cover Your Acres winter conference. Greg Lohofener (right) stood in front of his booth for Market Data Inc. Around 500 people attended the two-day conference in Oberlin to learn about no-till practices, fertilizer and other information.

— Herald staff photos by Kimberly Davis

*Meeting scheduled to discuss disease in deer

(Continued from Page 1A) contact with a dead animal or from the soil.

Mr. Mathews said at the meeting department officials will discuss what will happen from here and some of the background on the disease in Kansas. They will also answer questions.

Two years ago, he said, when there was a confirmed case of the disease in Cheyenne County, a department biologist went into the county and in five days took two to three dozen deer, which were all tested. That will probably happen in Decatur County.

Although the three confirmed cases were all in white-tail deer, any deer can contract the disease and both white-tail and mule deer will be harvested for testing.

Typically, said Mr. Mathews, the biologist will concentrate on the area within a 20 to 25 mile radius of where the three deer were taken during the hunting season.

Mr. Mathews said the department encourages the public to attend the informational meeting.

LIFETIME EYECARE

YOUR VISION SOURCE

Dr. Robert A. Stamm and Dr. Dirk M. Gray - Optometrists
105 S. Penn. — Oberlin, KS 67749 — 785-475-1200
218 West D St. — McCook, NE 69001 — 308-345-5800 — 1-800-759-1344

OBERLIN OFFICE HOURS

MON • WED • THUR — 8:30 a.m. - 5:30 p.m.

MCCOOK OFFICE HOURS

MON • WED — 8 a.m. - 6 p.m. TUE — 9 a.m. - 6 p.m.

THUR 8 a.m. — 8 p.m. FRI — 8 a.m. - 1 p.m.

SAT — By Appointment Only

Lifetime Eyecare, your leader in eye care. Utilizing the latest technology in equipment and diagnostic procedures, we provide the most comprehensive eye care in the area.

With our experienced doctors and staff, Lifetime Eyecare is a full scope optometric practice able to cover all of your eye care needs.

Our Services include:

- Primary care Optometry
- Co-management of Cataract Surgery
- Refractive Surgery consultation, referral and co-management
- Treatment and management of eye diseases including GLAUCOMA
- Pediatric vision care and member of SEE TO LEARN
- Prescription Lense packages Just for Kids starting at $39
- Specialized treatment for Dry Eyes
- Low vision care
- Complete dispensary featuring the latest in eye wear fashion including ARMANI, OAKLEY, JF REY AND MAUIJM
- Contact lens care with large inventory for same day service, including the latest in technology in soft bifocal disposable contact lenses
- Experienced staff for adjustments and repairs.
- Two year warranty on all eyewear.

Internet tonight! Call 475-2206!