Tie breaker used to choose winner

The tie-breaker score was used to determine the first-place winner in the inaugural week of this year's people guessed eight out of 10 football-game winners correctly.

Mary Kinser not only picked eight winners, but she was only 28 points off on the tie-breaking game. Cheri Kastens also picked eight winners but was 33 points off on the tie-breaker between Kansas State and Montana.

Ms. Kinser gets $15 and Ms. Kastens $10 in scrip, spendable at any participating business.

Three people picked seven out of 10 winners for a third-place tie.

Rodney Solko was 41 points off on the tie-breaker, Todd Ketterl 37 and Gary Anderson 24, so Mr. Anderson won the $5 third prize.

Picking six of 10 were Ivis Hanson, Owen Wilson, Josh Lahnanen, Kimberly Solko and Kari Ketterl.

Picking five of 10 were Connie Grafel, Travis Raile, Gail Lee Morgan, Valisha Raile and Mabel Zimmerman.

Zach May picked four of the Contest rules are on Page 5B of today's paper with an entry form. Pigskin Pick-em contest after two Forms also are available at the sponsoring businesses: Farm Bureau Financial Services, Wagner Chevrolet, Buick, Pontiac and Cadillac of McCook, Farm Credit of Western Kansas, Ward Drug Store, Raye's Grocery, the LandMark Inn, Home Planning Center, Fredrickson Insurance Agency and The Oberlin

> Only official entry blanks will be accepted, no copies.

This week's games included: The University of Kansas over

Louisiana Tech, 29-0. Nebraska over San Jose State,

- 35-12.
 - St. Francis over Colby, 20-0.
 - Osborne over Oberlin, 34-14. • Ellis over Atwood, 12-6.
- Ouinter over Golden Plains.
- Trego over Hoxie, 26-22.
- McCook over Alliance, 51-6. And the tie breaker, Kansas State over Montana, 69-10.

Graduate gets $250

We know you're busy,

and we respect that, so this ad will just take a few seconds to read.

Now you can complete your bachelor's degree in as little as

12 MONTHS.

With Bellevue University,

the leader in adult learning –

right here in McCook.

Enroll with your associate's degree, or close to 60 credit hours.

Choose from more than 25

career-relevant majors.

And access the program,

professors, and support

system ready to help you complete your degree and reach your career and life goals. All in that short, blink of an eye we call a year.

No other accredited university gives you a faster way.

A freshman at the University of and local merchants to celebrate Nebraska, Kearney will receive a $250 scholarship after being nominated as Student of the Week last year at Decatur Community High

May, just started her college career. for a scholarship. In some years, as She is majoring in vocal performing music. After graduation, said been given, but the program got a Miss Fisher, she wants to perform teams up with the high school staff ald.

Students of the Week. Each student is featured with a picture and information about themselves, which they provide. Any senior nominated for Student Kenzie Fisher, who graduated in of the Week is then in the running many as three scholarships have late start last year.

Look for this year's first student Each year, The Oberlin Herald next month in The Oberlin Her-

McCook Community

College associate's degree

is accepted at Bellevue

Iniversity – right here in McCook!

INTHE GAZEBO at Centennial Park downtown, the band Area Chamber of Commerce fund raiser Sunday night. Elwood, played and sang during an Oberlin-Decatur County for a donation.

Clueless featuring Lonnie McEvoy, Sid Metcalf and Mike Chamber board members served brownies and ice cream - Herald staff photo by Kimberly Davis

Schedule set for Mini Sapa Celebration

marks the 50th anniversary of Oberlin's Last Indian Raid Museum, on Saturday, Oct. 4.

The day will kick off at 7 a.m. with a pancake feed at the Bohemian Hall, said Curator Sharleen Wurm. After that, activities are planned at the museum until 4 p.m., when the Seeds of Creation gift shop closes. The day includes a performance proceeding down Main Street to the museum, the Koshare Indian dancby the Decatur County Community Jim Buccholz as Harry Heartburn. Band, a presentation from the city, recognition of the past curators of serve lunch from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. the museum, a vintage hat show and raffle drawings.

Mrs. Wurm said there will be a hot dogs.

The schedule is set for this year's by the DCHS Singers, a bake sale, melodrama in the afternoon. The Mini Sapa Celebration, which the museum being open all day, a cast includes Jan Bainter as Bertha parade starting at The Gateway and Backbite, Melanie Anderson as Belinda Backbite, Arian Arnold as Mary Belle, Leigh Davis as Little ers from La Junta, Colo., a concert Girl, Rob McFee as Les Law and

> The museum board and staff will for a donation. On the menu will be buffalo burgers and foot-long sponsor a tour of the sites of the Last

The tour starts from the museum at 2 p.m., with the talk scheduled at

The event can be attended by

Arts and Humanities season ticket

4 p.m. at the museum.

made jelly, jam and other items. Mrs. Wurm said a simulated hunting unit from the state Department of Wildlife and Parks will be in town and people will have the opportunity to try their hand.

Several exhibits will be set up for the day, including crocheted rag

rugs, rug hooking, knitting, Watkins

Products (which have been around since 1868), Indian bead work, live

buffalo, a covered wagon, home-

$5 for students in grades 1 through Indian Raid and a talk by Richard 12. Family tickets are $25. Anyone wanting to buy tickets just for the speech will pay half price. At 5 p.m. everyone is invited to the J.R. Ginther Farm near Achilles for a buffalo barbecue includ-Refreshments will be served at ing buffalo burgers, buffalo brats, beans, potato salad, tea and lemonade for $6.50 per person.

Museum to give away three big prizes and Humanities Commission will holders or for $10 for adults and

With the 50th anniversary of or $6 for 25. the Last Indian Raid Museum apbig prizes to raffle winners.

Curator Sharleen Wurm said people can buy tickets for a rifle, a rag rug and a quilt.

The gun is a Henry .22 caliber, numbered 1 out of 100, from Historical Armory of Colorado. It carries engravings of the LandMark Inn, a farm scene and the Decatur County courthouse, with the Last Indian Raid engraved in the middle.

Mrs. Wurm said anyone can buy one of the other 99 rifles from the company, choosing which numbered gun they want. The guns cost $500, with $25 of each sale going to the museum.

The museum also will be selling proaching, the museum staff and tickets for the rug, made by Betsy board are ready to give away three Jakowski of Norcatur. The wool Little Bear, president of Dull Knife yarns are either new, recycled or over-dyed, she says, and about "35 hours of labor and love" went into

The Schnauzer pattern on the rug is a replica of an antique rug in the the museum. lobby at the museum. Tickets are $1 for one or $5 for six.

The quilt, said Mrs. Wurm, was put together by Cheryl Votapka and then quilted by the museum quilters. It is hanging in the museum now.

The tickets are on sale at the museum or can be purchased during the Mini Sapa Celebration.

Mrs. Wurm said the kick-off event for the anniversary is Sunday Tickets for the rifle are $5 for one Sept. 28, when the Oberlin Arts

Food delivery moved

Land Food Distribution need to south of the Decatur County Hospiplan to pick up the goodies starting this month at a new location, at the the Golden Age Center.

Those taking part in the Prairie-moved back to the ambulance barn, tal, between 8 and 8:30 a.m.

People can buy the food, which includes meat, fruits and vegetables, for a fee and two hours of volunteer work each month. Ms. Gamblin said the distribution is normally the last Health Administrator Marilyn Saturday of the month. Anyone with questions can call her at 475-8118.

county ambulance barn instead of With demolition on the building possibly starting soon, said county Gamblin, the distribution will be and Tammy Fredrickson. Standing: Abby Seated: Fonda Farr Hissong and Tamara Sporn.

"We sell insurance but specialize in service!" See us for all your insurance needs.

Fredrickson Insurance welcomes Tamara Sporn as our new receptionist.

Please stop by and welcome Tamara to our office.

Fredrickson Insurance Agency
183 S. Penn – Oberlin – 785-475-3883 Got a few more minutes?

Call Stan Wudtke today. 345-8118

Real Learning for Real Life

bellevue.edu/McCook

McCook Community College, a division of Mid-Plains Community College 1205 East Third Street

Economic group plans wind meeting

The Oberlin-Decatur County Economic Development Corp. will sponsor a meeting on wind energy at 7 p.m. Tuesday at The Gateway.

Connie Grafel, marketing director for the group, said Michael Bowman, a Colorado farmer, will speak at the meeting. Mr. Bowman spoke with county commissioners from the area and others at a meeting about wind power in Oakley.

A representative from the Logan County Economic Development Corp. invited the Decatur County commissioners to the meeting, but none of them was able to attend.

A paper from the Logan County meeting put Kansas third in wind potential, behind North Dakota and Texas. Marlin Stramel, who wrote the document, writes that wind turbines have the potential to earn farmers anywhere from $2,000 to $5,000 each a year. "Kansas has broad expanses of open plains and high ridges," Mr. Stramel wrote. "The high ground, lack of trees, absence of urban areas with large buildings, all serve as an excellent source of relatively straight high-speed winds, especially in the western parts of Kansas." Part of the idea of the meeting in Oakley was to get communities in western Kansas to work together towards wind power, he said Mr. Bowman is a fifth generation Colorado farmer. He has served on several energy committees, and was a founding board member of the Sustainable Biodiesel Alliance, chair of Colorado's New Energy Future in 2006 and co-chair of Gov. Bill Ritter's energy policy transi-

The meeting will be open to the Treasure hunt coming

Whether selling or wanting to Anyone who wants to set up a sale buy, it's just about time for the annual 400-mile Treasure Hunt along U.S. 36 across Kansas, giving those who love a good garage sale a weekday, Sept. 19, and stretches through to get involved by renting out The Gateway as a handy site for sales.

The Treasure Hunt starts next Fri-This year, the Decatur County Area Chamber of Commerce plans inside or in the parking lot can call the Chamber office at 475-3441, President Kem Bryan at 475-3395 or Beth Harmon at 475-2846 to reserve a space inside for $35. Mrs. Bryan said if people want to set up a sale on their personal property, they can advertise with the Chamber on a city map for $5. The maps will then be distributed during the sale weekend.