Help needed indentifying old pictures

A group of mostly women, all in dresses, is gathered in front of what looks like a flag pole and many trees.

It might be a group of school teachers, or possibly the women are all related. No one knows for sure, although a few of the women have been identified.

At the end of November, The Oberlin Herald ran six old pictures from the Decatur County Museum on the OH! Page. The newlyweds were identified as Lester and LaJune (Deines) Ufford by his cousin, Phil Law, of Lakewood, Colo. People in each of the other pictures remain unidentified. The museum has hundreds of pictures like this.

The Herald staff and curator Sharleen Wurm have teamed up to find out who some of the people in these unidentified pictures are.

Although other attempts had been made to identify the people over the years, there'd been little or no luck. In an attempt to reach more people, the pictures are running in the newspaper to see if readers recognize any of these men, women and children. This week, we have a fresh batch.

If you think you know who any of the people on this page are, give Mrs. Wurm a call at (785) 475-2712, write her at 258 S. Penn Ave., Oberlin, Kan. 67749 or e-mail firm@sbglobal.net.

IDENTIFIED by an Oberlin Herald staff member was Maurice Muirhead (above), father of Leola Zodrow of Oberlin. This woman (below) is still unidentified.

DRESSED in his military uniform (above) this young man smiles. This couple, Charlie and Minnie Rohan (below), was identified by Neoma Tacha of Jennings, who saw the picture on Mary Lou Olson's desk in the newspaper office.
