Woman takes helm as Rotary president

July 1, replacing Rhonda Mav.

Other new officers include Kurt Vollertsen, vice president; Duane Dorshorst, secretary; and Jesse Carter, treasurer.

Mrs. Doeden, who is administrator of Decatur Health Systems and the Decatur County Hospi-Lynn Doeden tal, was vice president last year, has served as a member of the club's board for eight years.

"The community involvement of the Rotary Club really drew me to join eight years ago," she said.

The club has 42 members and among its projects are operating the ferris wheel at the Decatur County Fair, Rotary Radio Day on KFNF to help pay for scholarships for two seniors each year; the afterprom party for high school juniors and seniors, helping the Decatur County Food Bank, volunteering at Sunflower Cinema and other projects. The club also presents two scholarships annually from the estate of the late Charlie Corcoran, a longtime member.

"My goal this year is to try to be-management specialist recently joined the staff of the U.S.

Natural Resources Conservation Service as a conservationist in Winfield.

Dusty Tacha, grandson

of Bob and Neoma Tacha

of Jennings, previously was conservationist in Stevens County. He has a bachelor's degree in biology with an emphasis on rangeland management,

and a master's in grassland counties from 2003 to 2005.

of Oakley.

school.

parents are Roger and Peggy Tacha

Son follows father

in conservation field

Lynn Doeden took over as presi- provide service monthly for basics, dent of the Oberlin Rotary Club on whether monetary or hands-on," said Mrs. Doeden.

> The new club president is a native of Hoisington. She earned her associate's degree in nursing at Barton County Community College, a Bachelor of Science from Fort Hays State University and a master's degree in nursing from the Independent University of California.

She has worked at the secretary-treasurer and has been hospital since she and her husband Rick and daughter Erin moved to Oberlin in 1986. She served as director of nursing from 1994 to 1999, before becoming administrator.

Her husband, a native of Claffin, has owned Custom Trophy and Engraving in downtown Oberlin for the past 10 years.

Erin earned a master's degree in clinical psychology at the University of Kansas and is assistant director at the Career Development Center at the university. Her husband, Rodger Wolfram, earned a Bachelor of Science at KU and works at Pine Family Farms near Lawrence.

The Doedens' son Kellen is a May graduate of Kansas State University. He will be teaching sixth grade at Wakefield and speech, drama and come more community oriented and forensics at Clay Center this fall.

Stewart and Ellen (Sauvage) Swain and Emily of Bentonville, Ark., spent several days visiting Maxine Sauvage. They also visited with Ellen's cousins, Trudy Stockham, Norton: Joan McKenna, Jennings; John and Donna Sauvage, Selden; and Bill Sauvage, Pat Chard, Michael and Cheryl Sauvage, and Tyler, Breckin and Talan Sauvage, Oberlin.

Guests of Joe and Candy Dejmal this week are their grandchildren, Madelynn and Madox Miller of Elm Creek, Neb.

Jeanie Hengst of Millerstown, Pa., and Sherrill and Janet Vermillion of El Dorado are visiting the women's mother, Mildred Holmdahl, and sister, Janeil and Mike Jensen this week.

Virginia Almquist of Smith Center and her sister, Cecilia Brown of Oberlin, attended funeral services on Tuesday morning at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church in Goodland for their cousin, Leonard F. Zimmerman, 82, who died Friday. He was born at Selden, the son of Leonard Henry and Cecilia (Zodrow) Zimmerman. Survivors include his wife, the former Betty Racette, Goodland; three sons, Rick, Colorado Springs; Don, Westminster, Colo., and Randy, Goodland; and a daughter, Sheryl Bindeagle, Las Vegas.

Recent guests of Lyle and Leona Hilker were her children, Steve and Trina Krause, Gracie and Jacelyn, Svracuse, Utah; and Karla and Doug Wilson, Grant and Grayson, North Little Rock, Ark. On Thursday, they went to Herndon for pizza. On the Fourth of July Saturday, they all attended a Krause family reunion at the home of Dean and Linda Oman at Lake Maloney, near North Platte, Neb. Additional guests were Sandra and Delmer Van Lengen, Hastings, Neb.; Brenda Van Lengen, Shawnee; Neil and Audrey Van Lengen, Dax and Taya, Dodge, Neb.; Eric and Hayley Ryan, Wyatt, Jolee and Daisy, Overton, Neb.; Dustin Oman, Kearney, Neb.; and Sam and Angie Mohr, Jock and Kade, North Platte.

Winning highs in pinochle at the Golden Age Center last week were Dorothy Moore, Kelva Dryden, had to be enrolled in at least 12 Henry Edgett and Dewaine Stapp. semester hours of graded course Lows went to Ardis Roe, Doris work. Among those from area in-

Emergency plan ready for public view

There are also hand-held radios for the sheriff's department and one

The group talked about a chemimobile radio to go in her vehicle.

house said a man brought a tank to town that had some kind of fertilizer

in it and washed it out in the driveway. The contaminated water ran down the street and a neighbor was put a lot of cat litter on the chemical to absorb it. She said she talked to call the state, she said, adding that she stressed to the man that it needed to be cleaned up and that a farm tank shouldn't be cleaned out in town.

She said she couldn't remember the

In other business, the commis-

Talked with Ms. Boultinghouse about working on a list for the kind of training county employees need for the National Incident Manage-emergency medical technician, had passed his instructor class. Ambulance Director Linda Manning said

she is sending technicians Gaylen

Huntley and David Depperschmidt

to class so they can teach first refor nonelected personnel. There was Held a 10-minute closed session

• Heard that the weed department is spraying musk thistle. Mr.

Huntley, the county weed-control director, said he doesn't think he's seen it quite as bad as this in a long for attorney-client privilege. There

• Held a 10-minute closed session

· Heard that Chris Koerperich, an

Assistant Fire Chief Larry Ayers

There wasn't enough chemical to complaining.

the city police.

person's name.

ment System.

sponders.

no action taken.

was no action taken.

sioners

The county's emergency manshe added. agement director told the Decatur County commissioners the new hazard mitigation plan is done and a copy is sitting outside the clerk's office on the second floor of the cal spill in Oberlin. Ms. Boultingcourthouse for public inspection.

Director Jacque Boultinghouse said at the meeting June 15 they had the first public meeting for the plan recently. The plan is in a red three-ring binder outside the clerk's office so people can look through it and comment, she said.

The plan has to be on display until Thursday for people to look at, she said. Maybe they could wait until the second week in July for the second public meeting. That way, at least some of harvest will be finished.

The director said she wants to get the corrections taken care of so that the plan can start out as accurate as possible. The plan would be used in case of an emergency like a tornado, large fire or other natural disaster.

Ms. Boultinghouse said it's possible that the recent weather could be declared a disaster, but she hasn't heard yet.

She said she called Road and Bridge Supervisor Tim Stallman to ask about damages. Commissioner Ralph Unger said Mr. Stallman looked and the county lost one little bridge on a township road. Commissioners asked if that was enough to merit all the red tape to get a disaster declaration unless more damage is found.

Nothing has been declared yet, said Ms. Boultinghouse.

She said she has several boxes with 800 megahertz radios to be taken upstairs. A console unit needs to be hooked up in dispatch, she said, but she needs to get a bid from someone to install it. There's money from homeland security,

Council considers well

The Oberlin City Council talked about whether to apply for a state water permit in the city's name for the well at the former youth ranch recently, but didn't make any decisions.

City Foreman Dan Castle told the council at the meeting Thursday, June 10, that Willard Perrin, with the water department, had talked to the state about the well. The city can apply for the water rights, which will cost $1,000 for the permit, plus maintenance and yearly costs.

What's the advantage? asked Councilman Ray Ward.

The water rights had been in the name of the organization that rents the former ranch. If the well was in the city's name, the permit wouldn't of July, said Mr. Miller. have to be switched around depend-

If the youth ranch sits empty, said

Mr. Ward, the monthly maintenance could add up fast.

Councilman Rob McFee said the city should find out what it costs to test the well monthly. And if it even has to be tested every month, said Ms. May, noting that's not how a farm well works.

On another issue, Chris Miller, with Miller and Associates out of McCook, the city's engineering firm, said the Kansas Department of Health and Environment had approved the needed documents from Solar Bee for the solar mixers for the waste water treatment plant.

The company would like to have the mixers in operation by the end

The council held closed ses-

Dusty Tacha

ecology and range science. His veteran of rangeland management, office.

> doors with my father," he said, "I became a 'chip off the old block.'

> led me to going on to a get master's degree in the field.'

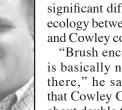

"I gave up my competitive advan- O'Leary of Pretty Prairie and the tage and opted for grad school, but late Harold O'Leary. His father is "Growing up enjoying the out-

"Brush encroachment is basically nonexistent there," he said, noting that Cowley County gets about double the amount

His father is a 33-year and Cowley counties.

of rainfall.

"My dad's career most certainly had a big impact. It steered me to my route for my education and that

He is also a grandson of Rozalia

tion to help him with the job in Cowley County, he said, he already sees significant differences in

A second-generation rangeland to grad school." Now that he has more educa-

ecology between Stevens

having worked in the Logan County

While he was an undergraduate at Hays, he worked through the service's trainee program, doing stints at Ness, Greenwood and Reno daughter, Amy and Tom Loftus, in Bloomington, Ill. From there they went to Mercer, Pa., to visit her brother, Dale and Jeanne Grimm for 10 days. While there, the Grimms took them to visit Mrs. Smith's childhood home and other points of interest at Newcastle, Pa. After their return home, another daughter, nette Miller. Senior potluck, 12:15 p.m. Sunday; commodity distribution, 9 a.m. Tuesday; chicken-foot dominoes, 1 p.m. Tuesday, all at

Tom and Maxine Smith were

Gail and Kay Marcuson returned

Kellen Doeden, son of Rick and Lynn Doeden, graduated magna cum laude with an academic average of 3.85 to 3.949 at from Kansas

State University this spring. He earned a Bachelor of Science in Education and will be teaching

sixth grade at Wakefield and speech,

drama and forensics at Clay Center

Five youths from Faith Lutheran

Church attended Confirmation

Camp at Sullivan Hills, Lodgepole,

Neb., from June 27-July 2. Molly

and Morgan Jansonius, Ganon

Henningson, and Kyle and Kelden

Breth accompanied Pastor Charlotte Strecker-Baseler. The theme of this year's camp was "ANew Creation" based on II Corinthians 5:17.

Sullivan Hills is part of Nebraska

K-State students who earned a

3.75 grade point average or higher for the spring 2010 semester were awarded semester honors. Students

Lutheran Outdoor Ministries.

this fall.

recent overnight guests of their

Golden Age Center.

Janie Hatchen, Blake and Trevor, of Wichita. visited a few days en route home from Colorado. Chenaniah Langness, a graduate of Decatur Community High School, was named to the spring honor roll at the University of Kansas. He is an engineering undergraduate junior. His parents are Richard and Kimberly Langness and his wife is the former Kassia Bryan, daughter of Ron Bryan of Oberlin. home Saturday from Denver and he is recuperating at home from quadruple heart by-pass surgery.

I decided I'd take my chances," he a 1970 graduate of Jennings High said. "It was a personal goal to go School.

He could have been placed immediately in a permanent position,

but instead opted to go to graduate

Alliance discusses canopies talked about the possibility of painting the canopies downtown and how to get started on the project.

Gary Anderson, owner of the LandMark Inn, said at a meeting last Wednesday it's probably time to start talking about painting the steel cover over the sidewalks. He said he wasn't sure if they should form a committee to look at the project or not, adding that he has no idea what the project would cost.

Kurt Vollertsen, owner of Ward Drug Store, asked if the city has talked at all about the canopies.

Mayor Joe Stanley, owner of Stanley Hardware, said not that he has heard.

Someone said the canopies were never meant to be painted, but no one was sure of that.

Mr. Stanley said he would check with Brad Weisenberger, with BWR, a engineering firm out of Kansas

The Oberlin Business Alliance City, because his father worked on the project, and see if he has any information on the canopies.

> The members decided to donate $50 for the fireworks show on the Fourth of July. The group talked briefly about the events and the success of the celebration for the day. Mr. Vollertsen suggested sending a thank-you letter to Kem Bryan for her work organizing the events.

In other business, the alliance members:

• Talked about the upcoming U.S. 36 Border to Border Treasure Hunt the weekend of Sept.17-19.

• Heard that the alliance will hold Community High School football

• Heard that the back-to-school

a tailgate party before the Decatur game Friday, Sept. 24.

picnic will be held on Wednesday, Aug. 11. The alliance normally pays for one-third of the meat.

Fringer, Norma Anderson, Neil cluded: Denton Bailey, son of Chris Marshall and Kelva Dryden. Pitch and Karen Bailey, Norcatur; Chris highs were won by Henry Edgett Larson, son of David and Belinda and Kelva Dryden with lows going to Dewaine Stapp and Dorothy Moore. Martha Fringer took high in chicken-foot dominoes and low went to Phyllis Screen. Bridge winners were Charlotte Meints and An-

Larson, and Nathan Simonsson, son of Brian and Krista Simonsson, Oberlin; and Andrew Broeckelman, son of Joe and Kathy Broeckelman, Selden.

Man injured in accident

lin is recuperating satisfactorily at Good Samaritan Hospital in Kearney, Neb., from injuries which he suffered Saturday afternoon while mowing on a township road near Lyle.

His daughter, Carrie Morford, said that the accident happened when he stopped to clean out the radiator and the tractor started moving, running over him. He was pinned under the tractor and was not found until three hours later by Donald "Butch" Stanley of Ober- Howard Sumner, who drove the tractor off of him and called for an ambulance. Mr. Stanley does the mowing for Grant and Harlan townships.

He was brought to Decatur County Hospital in Oberlin, then transferred by helicopter to Kearney.

Mrs. Morford and his other daughters, Kellie Stanley of Oberlin, and Chris Stanley of Mitchell, S.D., have been in Kearney with him and reported Monday that he has no broken bones.

Kappy 90th Birthday Lloyd Emerson

Come and help Lloyd Emerson celebrate his 90th Birthday at an Open Kouse at the American Legion, July 17, from 2-4 p.m.

> Cards can reach him at: 118 South York Oberlin, KS 67749

> > No gifts please

Call Tim Davis for all your advertising needs. (785) 475-2206

ing on who or what company is at sions lasting 20 and 15 minute for the ranch, said Mr. Castle. The state nonelected personnel with the city officials recommend putting it in the city's name.

Councilwoman Rhonda May said she would hate to have the well permit lapse too long, because the water rights could be lost.

Mr. Castle said he could have Mr. billing information. Perrin look into it.

attorney, interim administrator and foreman, after which the council approved paying Mr. Castle and Administrator Karen Larson $1 more an hour beginning in June and ending in September to input the

Cost Share Funds (Non-Point Source)

The Decatur County Conservation District will be taking cost share applications from July 12 through July 30.

"Funding is provided by the State Conservation Commission through appropriation from the Kansas Water Plan Fund."

Please apply now to upgrade your "failing" SEPTIC SYSTEM. (Other eligible practices are): livestock wells/pipelines, and the plugging of abandoned wells.

Our office is located on South Hwy 83 in Oberlin. For more information call 785-475-3131 Extension 101. Ask for Diana Solko.

Water Resource Cost Share Program Funds

will become available to the Decatur County Conservation District Office. Applications for the cost share funds will be accepted from July 12 through July 30.

Some of the eligible practices are: terraces (including rebuilds), diversions, livestock wells, pipelines, tanks and grass seedings.

"Funding is provided by the State Conservation Commission through appropriation from the Kansas Water Plan Fund."

Applications will only be taken (July 12 through July 30) at our office located on South Hwy. 83 in Oberlin. (Office hours will be from 8-11:30 a.m. and from 12:30-5 p.m.)

For additional information, please call 785-475-3131 (Extension 101) and ask for Diana Solko.

QUITTING BUSINESS AUCTION HANSEN'S PLUMBING, HEATING & AIR CONDITIONING

Marvin & Bea Hansen, Owners Saturday, July 31, 2010, 10:30 a.m. Auction location east edge of Oberlin. Selling will be equipment, trailers, trencher, trucks, lots of tools and inventory. Building located at 118 E. Commercial will sell at 1:30 p.m.

Guest Consignor: Cecilia Brown, selling yard equipment all like new including generator, JD riding lawn mowers, Troy-Bilt rototiller plus much more.

Complete sale bill in next week's paper!

For complete sale bill call Lynn Johnson at Johnson Realty, Inc., (785) 475-2785 Roberta Johnson, Broker

