

MACKENZIE URBAN'S sheep sniffed out their ribbons, while Mackenzie, 9, (above) held them up with the trophies she received in the sheep competition. She won grand champion and regional grand champion for the black-eared beauties. Whitney Witt, 14, (right) may have been the most competitive player in the bunch, as she showed in the breeding swine, swine showmanship, market swine and sow and litter tournaments. Her piglets may have captured the audience most, but it was her market swine that won grand champion.
